The council approved the package of 18 police-related measures Monday night at a special meeting following a closed-door session with Police Chief Anne Kirkpatrick and city administrators. “We have repeatedly asked for more resources,” Councilman Larry Reid said. “We’re not getting that. We’re not getting any budget increases. We are asking for more resources.” One of the items the council approved was the hiring of an independent monitor to oversee the police department. Council members also approved a $5,050 expense for the police department to hire two crime-scene cleanup experts and a $11,937 to restore money in the police department’s budget. Also included in the package is a plan to purchase two new police motorcycles at a cost of $20,640. The council also approved the hiring of 11 new police officers at a cost of $522,707. Of those 11 officers, five will be part-time, with three officers split between a first response team and a narcotics unit. The other seven will be full-time. As in the previous council vote, the council also approved the hiring of two officers to investigate the death of the man who died after being placed under a police taser. The new officers are expected to be on the force for about six months, before moving to another station. The council also approved a $30,000 contribution to pay for the hiring of an outside lawyer to be hired to conduct a review of the police department. It also approved a $1.4 million contribution to contract with the U.S. Department of Justice to pay for independent investigations. The council also approved the purchase of more than 600 new police issue Tasers at a cost of $1.8 million. City Administrator Henry Gardner said in a statement released Tuesday that the Police Department is in “crisis” over the death of Eric Garner, who died after being placed under a police taser. “While the results of the investigation into the death of Eric Garner will not be released until sometime

November 4, 2016 - Hello everyone! I am using Windows 10 on my laptop and have installed Autodata 3.40. When I want to open it to use it, I get the following message... Autodata cannot be started as a service due to error "0x00000050". I can't get information about the error as it doesn't make sense. I have tried many things to see what I can do. I created an Administrator account and enabled autostart, but that doesn't help. I've already reinstalled both the drivers and everything else. I tried everything I could think of. Does anyone know what it is??? Thanks again! With best regards, Mikhail fffad4f19a
