X-ray percutaneous endoscopic lung volume reduction (PEC-LVR) has been used to extend the lung volume beyond the maximum that is maintained with medical treatment alone. Pulmonary function tests were performed before and after PEC-LVR for 6 patients with severe pulmonary emphysema. PEC-LVR was performed in 5 of 6 patients (mean age, 70 years; mean forced vital capacity [FVC], 29% of predicted; mean carbon monoxide diffusing capacity [DLCO], 20% of predicted) by using our new commercially available software and the standard two-step PEC-LVR technique. At 8 to 10 months after PEC-LVR, FVC and DLCO significantly improved in 5 patients. In one patient, however, FEV(1) and DLCO did not

I have an app where a user should be able to click a button on the page and fire a request (Ajax post) which should trigger a statechange in my parent component based on the id of the node (Dynamically generated) that was clicked. My problem is that the statechange fires the first time for the element that was clicked, but not after for the node next in line. Also tried hooking statechange into click function:

function ajaxPost(){ if (!this.state.loading){ console.log(this.state.selected); this.setState({loading:true}); let url = "localhost:8080/api"; let id = this.state.selected; fetch(url, { method: "POST", headers: { "Content-Type": "application/json", ba244e880a
