As a subsidiary of Tencent Holdings, Roblox was founded in 2004 and is headquartered in San Mateo, California.[3] At its launch, Roblox offered the ability to code in four languages: English, Spanish, Portuguese, and French. Roblox was primarily designed to enable children to create their own games, similar to the virtual world of Club Penguin. Roblox was initially seen as a rival to Club Penguin, as well as to other massively multiplayer online games like EverQuest, World of Warcraft and MapleStory. As Roblox's software and community grew, users found they were able to make games and then play them with their friends. Roblox originally intended to launch it for children ages 5 to 12, but has not updated its terms of service to reflect this. As of 2019, Roblox maintains its age-based child safety guidelines, with age-restricted content such as nudity, explicit language, and graphic violence, which it deletes within minutes of being uploaded. Roblox states that its platform is aimed primarily at ages 13 and older, although some publishers have targeted the young adult demographics. In 2019, Roblox decided to work to expand its development pipeline to more "adult" content.[4][5] In contrast to other massively multiplayer online games, Roblox generates its revenue by selling virtual goods, often in the form of game items, to users rather than requiring players to purchase subscription-based monthly or annual memberships to play.[6] The first Robux virtual currency was released in 2007.[7] The Robux virtual currency system is similar to that of the Second Life virtual world, where users can purchase virtual "land" or assets from the Second Life provider Linden Lab. Since its inception, Roblox has made most of its revenue from the sale of virtual items, over 50 billion in aggregate value in 2019, the highest in the industry.[8] Many Roblox game developers make money by selling advertising space in their games, however, in contrast to other online games, advertising is not required to play Roblox games, and content creators can decide whether to run advertisements or not.[9][10] In order to set up a Roblox account, the user must create a user name and password, and provide a valid email address. The user is then registered to receive Robux for free, but must purchase items in the game store in order to use Robux.[11] Robux is required to purchase

And can I get free robux by myself? A: Yes, you can get free robux, but you will have to do a lot of work before you can even think about having enough points for any of the cool stuff. I'm not going to get into too many details, but I will give a very basic description of the process. First, let's get the robux. If you aren't using a bot, you need to think about things like how many real people are on your server. On Roblox, in the past, the people on your server were just as good as you at getting robux, and it was much harder to get robux than it is to get robux now. This means that you can get robux if you just sit there and play. So the first thing you need to do is play Roblox. Use your computer's video card to its maximum capacity. If possible, get more than one computer so you don't have to wait too long between winning robux. If you have a lot of friends that play Roblox, use their computers. Put your robux to work for you. If you are really lazy, you can buy robux from someone you know will sell to you. Seriously, you can find robux by typing "robux" into Google, and it will show you websites that sell robux. There are tons of places to get robux, but I can't be there for you, so I can only give you hints. Also, this doesn't really have anything to do with free robux, but if you play Roblox for a long time, you can take the time to build up a large amount of power, and you will get richer and richer. Seriously, this is one of the best ways to get rich on Roblox, but it's boring to most people. But if you like to play a lot of Roblox, you can create a factory for robotic pigs, and you can get very rich if you play Roblox a lot. So, once you are playing a lot, and have a large amount of robux, you can start building cool things for your avatar. These cool things are called houses, and they are what robux was all about when Roblox was popular. The houses are what you get after you make your avatar, and how long you play Rob
